BISHOP HENDRIX HEARD BY LARGE CONGREGATIONS

Beautiful Easter Services at Churches in Paducah Yesterday Morning.

Knights Templar Hear Interesting Sermon.

THE IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL

Bishop Eugene R. Hendrix, of Kansas City, Mo., filled the pulpit of the Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning and evening, preaching two sermons of wonderful grace and power. Bishop Hendrix held the session of the Memphis conference in Paducah in November, 1898, and this is the first visit since. The congregations that greeted him yesterday was a fine testimonial to the impression he made then. As a thinker, speaker and man of affairs, Bishop Hendrix stands pre-eminent in the college of bishops of the M. E. Church, South. His sermons yesterday were beautiful examples of the ripening effects of the 10 growing years since last here. The service was in every way commemorative with the spirit and triumph of Easter day. Palms and lilies about the altar added the touch of Easter beauty.

At night Bishop Hendrix spoke from the Psalm 8:11—"Inite my heart to fear thy name." Urging that neither rich nor man can get music from an unstrung instrument, he stressed the necessity of concentration in religious life as in achievement in worldly matters.

At the close of the morning sermon Bishop Hendrix raised $2,752 for the "floating debt" of the Broadway Methodist church.

There were nine additions to this church by letters yesterday morning, and a class of 16 by profession of faith were received. The Rev. G. T. Sullivan, the pastor, administered the rite of adult baptism to 11 young people and infant baptism to 12 children.

The congregation of the Tribune Street Methodist church with the pastor, the Rev. G. W. Hanke, worshipped with the congregation of Broad- way last night.

Bishop Hendrix left this morning for Chattanooga, Tenn., to attend the meeting of the laymen of the M. E. Church, South, which opens there tomorrow. Bishop Hendrix will introduce Ambassador Bryce, who is one of the speakers of the occasion.

Evangelist.

The Paducah Presbyterians probably will employ an evangelist. Two prominent citizens of Marion were present at the meeting to try before the Presbytery at Henderson the preparation, and offering a large contribution. It is probable that a man will be employed to actively engage in evangelistic work, preaching at the Mizpah and Hebrew missions in Paducah and elsewhere.

German Evangelical.

The Easter services at the German Evangelical church were attended by large congregations. At the morning hour the rite of confirmation was administered to Eugene Katterjohn, Silas Oehlenschlaeger and Boyd Shelton. There were six members received by letter. The largest collection in the history of the church was taken at the morning service.

The Easter song service at night was especially beautiful. An elaborate program was rendered with several solo features. The Rev. W. E. Bourquin delivered an eloquent Easter sermon. The church was prettily decorated with palms, Easter lilies and other flowers.

Knights Templar.

The Rev. Calvin M. Thompson, former pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, preached an anniversary sermon there Sunday morn-

Judge Wells Leaves Murray After Hearing Confession Sunday--He Received Telegram From Someone.

Soldiers Said to Have Long Night Trip After Murray
Harris Without Results—
Three on Bond.

Murray, Ky., April 19. (Special)—The confession of a night rider, and the mysterious disappearance of County Judge A. J. G. Wells, were the only events to break the monotony of a beautiful Sabbath in Murray. Soldiers were tired after an exhausting night's search. It is said, after Murray Harris, the missing witness against the Kirksey band of night riders.

No one will talk, but here is what happened Saturday evening without warning: Two officers, who have been coming in from Paducah every day with a detachment of eight men, and seven strange soldiers under a new lieutenant, arrived Saturday evening on the train from Paducah. Then all, excepting the men on guard, set out on horseback. They returned this morning, the most exhausted lot of soldiers one could imagine. The new comers all returned in to Paducah. It is said the seven were from Eddyville.

It is known that the authorities are anxious to find Murray Harris. He made a confession involving a number of prominent men in the Kirksey raids. Then he disappeared, and it is authentically reported that night riders worked on the fears of his family, until he was forced to flee for his life. A man by his name was located and captured, but he proved to be the wrong Harris.

However, it is whispered that the night riders, who are depending on the absence of Murray Harris to destroy the case of the prosecution, will be surprised, because there is other evidence. But, naturally, the authorities wish every bit of evidence laid when the trials come off, and they are assured they will get the witness whenever it is necessary.

Another Confession.

A man named Stewart, from the Ohio river section, voluntarily presented himself before Judge Wells Sunday and said he and his father were compelled to take the night rider oath, but they did not participate in any raids. He divulged the names of a number of leaders of the east side band.

Just before the noon train pulled out Judge Wells received a telegram and announced that he was called away and would have to hurry. Mrs. Wells said this morning she does not know where he went, nor when he will return, but she did not appear greatly worried over his absence.

The Arrests.

Saturday night the following were arrested on trench warrants: Chester and Clet Burkeen, Emper and George Parrish and M. D. and Calvin Berry and Dan Ellis. The Burkeen and Parrish boys executed bond. This leaves 12 in the county jail. The front cells are full of negro prisoners and only the steel cells are available for holding night rider prisoners. The jail will not hold more than 15 or 16 prisoners. It is probable that unless many more bonds, some of the prisoners will be sent to Paducah for safe keeping.

County Attorney Barnett stated today it is his belief that not more than four or five will be tried at this time, because Judge Cook has other counts to hold soon. Most of the cases will go over until August, and indications are that the soldiers will be kept on in the county all summer, to protect witnesses from molestation and to prevent the night riders destroying the evidence against them.

The bondsmen of the Parrish boys, who gave $1,500 bond each, are Ben Parrish, their father, Ward Parrish, of Paducah, their uncle; J. P. Burkeen, D. H. Hopkins, John A. Hopkins, A. J. Burkeen, Hardin Lovett, who gave bond in one case and went to jail in another, is sick, and he is in custody of the sheriff out of jail. The grand jury is working away today.

ITALY ACCORDED POSTOFFICE BY TURKISH SULTAN

Rome, April 20.—The Turkish ambassador notified the Italian foreign office that the sultan has yielded to King Victor's demand for authority to open the Italian postoffice in Turkey, a privilege enjoyed by all foreign powers. Orders for the Italian squadron's departure for a demonstration in Turkish waters is countermanded for the present.

MINES IN OPERATION

Columbus, April 20.—Practically all the Ohio coal mines are in operation today as the result of the scale agreement at the Toledo conference.

INCENDIARY FIRE DESTROYS CHURCH NEAR SMITHLAND

The Oak Grove Presbyterian church, six miles below Smithland, and about the same distance from Paducah, was burned to the ground early Sunday morning. The church building was a new one and cost about $1,500. Although there seems to be no clue to the identity of the supposed incendiaries, people in the neighborhood are said to have expressed the opinion that the church was burned by enemies of the Farmers' Union, which organization had held several meetings in the church. The fire is certainly incendiary.

HIRSCH PROPOSES BIBLE REVISION ---BARS MIRACLES

Chicago, April 20.—Itzchak Hirsch, a prominent Hebrew scholar, proposes a Bible revision with the elimination of all before the first commandment given to Moses. He said the story of creation is unnecessary, because unscientific and ridiculous. It is probable that unless many more bonds, some of the prisoners will be sent to Paducah for safe keeping.

County Attorney Barnett stated to day it is his belief that not more than four or five will be tried at this time, because Judge Cook has other counts to hold soon. Most of the cases will go over until August, and indications are that the soldiers will be kept on

BRAKERMAN'S NECK BROKEN FALLING OFF HIS CABOOSE

"Happy" Joe Woodbridge Meets
Untimely End When Train
Starts Up Grade.

POPULAR TRAINMAN LEAVES WIFE AND INFANT SON.

LIVED MANY YEARS IN CITY

Jerked from the rear end of a caboose by the shock, as freight train No. 181, stretched out starting up a grade at a speed of 30 miles an hour, two miles beyond Princeton last night at 6:40 o'clock. J. P. Woodbridge, brakeman, fell to the track, breaking his neck and crushing his skull. His death was instantaneous. Conductor Williams witnessed the accident, and the train was stopped as quickly as could be and backed to the spot, where the body was tenderly picked up and sent back to Paducah in charge of friends.

The accident happened on the Louisville division and the train was bound for Central City. It had just gone down a grade with the cars crowded together, when Brakeman Woodbridge stepped out on the back platform to climb on top of the train. The train started up the next grade and the slack pulled out with a jerk as the engine forged ahead, straining at the drawbars. The brakeman, caught unaware, toppled over the handrail before the conductor could move a step or cry out a warning.

"Happy" Joe Woodbridge was one of the best known railroad men in Paducah and numbered his friends by the score. He worked as a machinist in the shops for several years. He was a native of Richmond, Va., and came here with his parents November 19, 1891. He was born May 28, 1880. He married here, leaving his wife, Mrs. Margaret Woodbridge, and a baby boy, 17 months old, besides his father, C. W. Woodbridge, and a brother, James Woodbridge, in this city, and a brother, Charles Woodbridge, in Springfield, Mo.

Mr. Woodbridge was a member of St. Francis de Sales parish, and the funeral will be conducted by the Rev. Father Jansen. He was also a member of the Locomotive Firemen. The following pall-bearers have been chosen from among his railroad friends: John Trantham, Fred McCreary, Frank Shoulder, Roy Judd, Thomas McGarigle, Robert Duke, Stoddard Robertson, William Lydon, Jr., Charles Carney, Thomas Hodgeley, W. C. Tandy, Louis Hugg.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the St. Francis de Sales church. The burial will be at Mt. Carmel cemetery.

San Francisco, April 20.—Emma Goldman and her manager, Ida Reitman, were ejected from a hotel here, because of the objection made by four detectives who had her under surveillance.

charge of selling liquor without a license and fined $100 and given 30 days in jail.

The charge against William Beane, for selling liquor without a license, was continued.

The case against J. S. Bardeaux and Phil J. Abbott was continued. Link Rowland was convicted for selling whisky without paying the special tax. He is a negro from Mayfield.

The case against Frank Ferruer for violating the liquor laws was dismissed after the evidence of the prosecution had been heard.

The charge against Ed Gardner for selling liquor without license was discontinued on account of the absence of witnesses.

J. M. Bradford, charged with violating the postal laws, was dismissed on motion of the district attorney.

The Civil Docket.

The criminal docket having been disposed of the civil docket was taken up this afternoon and the case of the Walsh Manufacturing company, of Pittsburg, against the Paducah Cooperage company went on trial.

The suit is to recover $2,500 for a kiln which the cooperage company, which refused to accept the kiln on the ground that it did not do the work guaranteed.

The transcript of the lower court in the case of the Harth Bros. Granite company was the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad company was filed and the case continued.

The suit of Jerry Frazier against the Illinois Central was dismissed without prejudice on motion of the plaintiff.

Exceptions to Sale.

In the suit of Kellogg, etc., against the Mengenthaler-Horton Basket company, exceptions to the sale of the master were filed with an offer of $10,000. The master was sold at a sacrifice and the defendants filed a motion to set aside the sale.

Judge Evans instructed the grand jury orally and briefly, calling their attention to the various duties before them. He said the district attorney reported that there were few cases to be investigated and the court stated that this was highly complimentary to western Kentucky and its citizens, who are among the most law-abiding in the state so far as complying with the federal statutes is concerned.

Alimony Bureau.

The workings of the Southern Selecting Agency, an alleged matrimonial bureau, proved interesting and amusing to the large crowd in federal court this morning, and although the court is usually most imposing and solemn, a ripple of laughter passed over the room on several occasions when the plans and details of the agency were aired before the court.

According to the evidence there were placed two advertisements in city papers, one purporting to be from a young and handsome lady of means and another from a gentleman of like qualifications, and read as though they were placed by individuals seeking the acquaintance of one of the opposite sex matrimonially inclined.

When answers came, the agency would send out a circular giving a more complete description of the lady or gentleman referred to in the advertisement and propose upon receipt of $1 in a membership fee, to furnish the name and address of the person. If the one did not prove satisfactory they would furnish other names and addresses or refund the money. Mr. Worley, of Brownsville, Tenn., and K. R. Penkey, of St. Louis, Mo., who answered the advertisements, were present in court. Both stated that the agency put them in communication with young ladies and that as far as they were concerned they were entirely satisfied with the proceedings, though neither admitted marrying the girls they met through the advantages of the agency.

E. Brown was on trial. Brown admitted placing the advertisements, but denied any intention to defraud. He said that in one case he had a party's consent to advertise for a correspondent, but that in the other cases he used the plan as a means to get in touch with people matrimonially inclined.

The jury in the Brown case returned a verdict of not guilty and the defendant was released.

The charge against G. A. Chandler for refilling bottles in bond whisky with inferior whisky was dismissed.

Pony West was convicted for selling whisky without a license and his punishment was fixed at a fine of $100 and 30 days in jail.

William Lett was convicted on a

CONTEST HEADED BY TAFT--MADE GAINS LAST WEEK

Taft Has Half Total Number of Delegates Chosen Thus Far in Race.

Secures Forty of Fifty-six During Week.

TENNESSEE GETS INTO LINE.

Washington, April 20.—A bulletin issued from the Taft headquarters takes the following claims as to Mr. Taft's recent strength:

"The total number of delegates thus far elected is 516. Secretary Taft's supporters claim 278 of them, 212 being uncontested, to which should be added four from Oklahoma and eight from Tennessee, a total of 254. Fifty-six delegates to the Republican national convention were elected this week, and forty of them are pledged to Secretary Taft, either through instructions or by virtue of relations of preference."

"The situation in Tennessee has been cleared by the declaration of W. J. Oliver, whose services as an anti-Taft leader had been in demand, to the effect that he supports the candidacy of Secretary Taft, locally, and that no matter how the contests in Tennessee may be decided, the delegates seated will be for the war secretary.

"This virtually takes delegates in Tennessee out of the contested column and places them in the Taft column."

Taft 'Most Fit' Candidate.

Salem, Mass., April 20.—Unseated and unseated delegates to the Republican national convention at Chicago were selected at the Sixth Massachusetts Republican convention. A resolution declaring that Secretary of War Taft "is the most fitting candidate to carry out the policies of President Roosevelt," was adopted.

TEST OF STRENGTH

BY-ELECTIONS CAUSED BY CABINET CHANGE.

Radical Party in England Devoting All Energies Toward Victory for Winston Churchill.

London, April 20.—The recent reconstruction of the cabinet which came about as a result of the retirement of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and the assumption of the office of premier by Herbert H. Asquith, has plunged the country into a miniature election. Not less than seven by-elections have been made necessary to fill the vacancies created by the cabinet changes. Four of these will be decided in the coming week.

By far the most interesting will be held to return a member from the northwest division of Manchester, where the fate of Winston Churchill who is seeking re-election on his elevation to the presidency of the board of trade, will be a surer index of the country's estimate of the past two years of Radical rule than are the verdicts of the smaller constituencies which have gone against the government. This contest will be fought hard and the political fighters in both the dominant parties are preparing for the fray. Mr. Churchill will again be opposed by W. L. Johnson-Hykes, who contested this seat in the unionist interests at the last general election. There is also a socialist candidate in the field, but he does not cut much figure.

Mr. Churchill is showing his unusually dashing energy in as fiercely as he has been seen in a waged contest in this country in years. After a brief Good Friday truce, he addressed not less than half a dozen meetings, four of which were in the open air in different parts of the constituency. Mr. Churchill's mother, Mrs. Cornwallis West, is repeating her tactics of the last election. She accompanies her son to the platform and is nuturing in her work among the doubtful groups of electors.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Jillian Russell.

Lillian Russell, who comes to the Kentucky, is one of the most distinguished women on the American stage, and she is making still another claim to distinction, now that she has apparently brought one theatrical career to a close, only to begin another. Former prima donna, singing comedian, and instead comedy star, she is now being announced simply as a comedienne, and the play which she brings to the Kentucky, "Wildfire," is a comedy of the usual type and is quite without music. The public has enjoyed the vocal excellence of this lady so much in years past that it has required no small amount of effort on her part to convince her old admirers that she ought not to sing any more, but she is succeeding in this purpose remarkably well. Last year she introduced a popular work called "The Butterfly," in which, as a widow of somewhat irresponsible tendencies, she was permitted to sing up and down the scale once, in imitation of a minstrel who was plying his trade in an adjoining room. But the wonderful singing voice was not to be heard in any pretentious sense, and the entertainment proved to be quite pleasant, nevertheless. In the new piece not a note will be sung, and yet Miss Russell is said to be far surpassing her former success in "The Butter-

"Wildfire" is a play with a racing atmosphere, and "Wildfire" is the name of a speedy horse. A more or less sedate widow has derived from the estate of her late husband nothing of value except this horse with a pedigree, and she sees no way of making a living except by continuing, in secret, to enter Wildfire in racing contests. As the lady moves in a circle which views racing with disapproval, she has to be very careful not to permit the facts of her connection with the sport to be made public. But in the management of a famous race there is a threat of dishonesty by one of her competitors, and she is placed in a trying position. Upon this circumstance the climax of the play is constructed. Miss Russell will be assisted by Howard Gould, Will Archie and other well known players.

GREEN RIVER

ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED TO BRING PEACE

All Elements Join In New Tobacco Deal in Five of the Counties.

Owensboro, Ky., April 19.—The Green River Tobacco Growers' association is the name under which the tobacco growers of the counties of Daviess, McLean, Ohio, Breckinridge and Hancock are now organized. These growers, who formerly constituted the American Society of Equity and a very large percent of the independent growers, are in the organization and there is every prospect that the Home Warehouse company will shortly join the forces. Officers have been elected, a constitution and by-laws adopted, and all the preliminary work has been done.

These things were done at an enthusiastic meeting of growers from the Green river district at the court house today. There were over 800 growers in attendance. The board of control will meet in Owensboro next Saturday and elect a secretary and treasurer and perfect plans for operation. The vote by which the new constitution was adopted today was almost unanimous. The result was not accomplished, however, without some friction, and at one time the indications were that the meeting would break up in a wrangle.

The constitution adopted is the result of the work of a committee representing the regular American Society of Equity, the Home Warehouse and the Independents. The following officers were elected: Henry Berry, of Daviess county, president; S. R. Ewing, of Daviess county, vice president. The members of the board of control were selected from the counties in the organization. The action removes all probability of trouble in the Green river district.

JACKSON CO. DEPLORES LAWLESSNESS IN STATE.

The inhabitants of Breathitt and other mountain counties that have been before the public in an unenviable light for years because of the lawlessness that has existed and have been attacked in press, pulpit and by stump speakers in Western Kentucky, are now having their living denouncing western Kentucky for the lawlessness in the tobacco belt, according to a well known travelling man of Murray, who was in Paducah this morning returning from a trip through eastern Kentucky.

The gentleman entertained a crowd of people at the Union station this morning, reading resolutions adopted at a "law and order" meeting at Jackson recently. The resolutions were printed in the Jackson Democrat and call upon all the citizens of the "law abiding mountain counties to lend their aid in any lawful manner to put down the lawlessness in the tobacco growing counties," where it is said disgrace has been brought to the entire state by the depredations. It is said that the meeting at Jackson was largely attended and many humorous speeches were made.

PITTER PURYEAR.

Notary Public.

Daily Thought.

We aim at a life beautiful without extravagance, and contemplative without unmanliness; wealth is in our eyes a thing not for ostentation but for reasonable use; and it's not the acknowledgement of poverty we think disgraceful, but the want of endeavor to avoid it.—Pericles.

THAT NIGHT RIDER OATH.

Judge Wells warns his people to beware of the fallacy of confusing the interests of the tobacco association with the night riders. The men who are responsible for night riding have personal ends to subserve and are long everybody will know who those men are and what their ends are; and it would be well for those men to put leagues between them and Kentucky before that day of judgment. They hope they will be out of the reach of the law; but we fear public indignation will be at such a pitch that they will not be out of reach of summary justice in spite of technicalities. Their dupes—some of them—are even now in the toils. Those men are going to be punished. Is it wise for them to take on themselves the hardship, and let the real criminals enjoy all the benefits of their crimes? While the poor dupes are languishing behind iron bars and stone walls, their leaders will be outside trickling others into pulling their chests out of the fire. It is time for the fellow, who was fooled into joining to "turn up" the cowards that got him into trouble. They will desert him in his extremity. They may make a bluff in his behalf to protect themselves, but at the last they will sacrifice him and look for other dupes to serve them. They will regard him only as a fool, if he takes his punishment, and leaves them to prosper off his misery. There's too much injustice in this world; but the victim is sometimes to blame. He has a silly regard for an oath that binds him to do another's bidding for the others' benefit; suffer punishment for his obedience and remain silent about his master's complicity. A man would be a fool to regard an oath like that.

THE WINNING SIDE.

Put none but Taft men on guard. McCracken county Republicans have another battle to fight for their presidential choice. Next Saturday delegates will be chosen to the state convention, when somebody will be endorsed for the presidential nomination. It is now demonstrated that Taft is sweeping the country, carrying every state excepting those that have favorite sons, and in Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York Taft's friends can get the votes, whenever they are needed. A clique at Frankfort, comprising but one or two officials elected by the people are endeavoring to secure the endorsement of Vice-President Fairbanks, not in the hope of his winning the nomination, but simply to secure control of the state delegation so they can go to the national convention with the state of Kentucky in their keeping to be delivered to whomsoever they please when the break comes, thus giving them the influence and the prestige such power carries with it.

Such a course may bring golden returns to the man, who can deliver the goods, but it must inevitably baffle the state and the delegates, who are made the subject of barter and sale in a national convention. There will be no reward for them, because the prominence of the men who deliver them, will obscure all else. The rewards always go to the winner, and those who aid the winner. Taft is foreseen to be the winner in this fight. Those, who oppose him in the national convention, will be on the losing side. Worse than losers will be those, who deliberately oppose him for political reasons, when he sees his nomination is inevitable.

Greater will be the reward of those, who make the fight for Taft in Kentucky, when the self-imposed losses are fighting him. It is utterly folly for anybody to oppose Secretary of War Taft for the nomination and then expect to dictate the appointments Mr. Taft will make in Kentucky. Men do not take great offices and then give the rewards to those who opposed them and turn their backs on the men, who fought for them. That is not the way political parties are formed and maintained. Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, undertook to do just that very thing, and we all know what happened to Mr. Foraker, of Ohio.

Show your manhood, you west Kentuckians, and don't be dictated to against your own inclination and your interests by men, who would use you as trading stock in the national convention. If you are for Taft, and if you wish to be on the winning side, go to that convention next Saturday and declare yourself.

DEBOE.

Deboe, mad, and spitting his venom at the men who have downed him politically, could only call names and beg for more time, to defer the inevitable as long as possible. When April 30 comes Mr. Deboe will be dumped on to the political refuse heap. He has been tried and found wanting. A state central committeeman, he is opposed by eight of the thirteen men on his committee, and can only maintain his hold on the district organization by brazenly ignoring the very rules the central committee adopted as not fit for leadership. All day it produced in the committee meeting showed that Deboe had boasted before hand that he would control that convention, regardless of everything. The action of his heelers in this country, putting a Democrat in charge of his campaign, showed that there is no one for him here; and his selection of a Democratic wholesale whisky dealer for delegate to the national convention, affords opportunity to observe how much respect he entertains for the party that signally honored him one time before he was found out.

BISHOP HENDRIX

ing to the members of the local commandery of Knights Templar. The society attended in a body about 30 strong, attired in full uniform. They occupied middle seats in the front of the church. The entire, auditorium, including the gallery, was crowded to the utmost capacity and it is estimated that 300 people heard the sermon.

Dr. Thompson's text was taken from Matt. XXVIII. 6: "Come and see where the Lord lay."

Immortality of the Soul.

"If a man die, shall he live again?"

This centuries old inquiry of the ancient philosopher Job, was propounded and answered in the affirmative yesterday morning by the Rev. J. R. Henry, at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church. Dr. Henry showed that Pagan and Christian philosophers believed in the immortality of the soul; all religions comprehend some future form of torment or delight; and he disclosed an intuition that the soul shall not perish. He said if one believes there is a God, he cannot think of God making such a thing as the human soul to last for a brief time on earth and then perish. No man's life and work is finished on this earth, justice is not fully established, and that harmony and completeness which prevails throughout the universe corroborates the promise of God. It would seem to us folly to waste intellect to make a man superior to other animals and then let him die and decay, no better than a dog.

Dr. Henry's argument was exhaustive and his manner forceful.

Excellent music was rendered by the choir and the church was decorated in plants and spring flowers.

Grace Episcopal.

Holy communion in memory of the visit of the women to the Savior's tomb was held at 6:30 a. m. Easter morning at Grace Episcopal church. The Sunday school pupils held especially Easter service at 9:30 o'clock. The Easter music at the church hour was a beautiful feature. Miss Ruble Lamb was the soloist. The Rev. D. C. Wright preached an impressive sermon in commemoration of the day. The Easter offering was $480, besides the regular collection, and does not include the especial work that has been done as an Easter offering by the various societies of the church. The chancel of the church and the memorial baptistry were beautifully decorated with flowers and plants.

I pressed against the wall horrified, fascinated, unable either to interfere or to leave. After a little a tiny stream, growing each moment, began to flow past my feet. It sought its channel daintily, as streams do, feeling among the stones in eddies, quiet pools, miniature falls and rapids.

FLOATER FOUND AT NEW MADRID MO.; NOT IDENTIFIED

Chief of Police Collins received a letter this morning from H. C. Riley, of New Madrid, Mo., stating that a riverman of that town, named Miles Mainord, had picked up the naked body of a man at that point and that it was being held for identification. The dead man was about 35 years old. He had black hair and a smooth face. The body was attired only in a leather belt and a pair of No. 6 shoes. There was nothing about the belt or the shoes that might lead to an identification. The man was about 5 feet 6 inches in height. Tattoo marks were found on both arms and on his right breast, the one on his right arm being the head of a woman. So far as can be learned no such man has been drowned in the Ohio river at or near Paducah recently.

NEWS OF COURTS

Fee 14 Years Old.

An example of the remarkable memory of Deputy Clerk Clerk W. C. Kidd and how well he is in touch with everything pertaining to his office, was shown yesterday when he recognized L. F. Carroll in the court room and handed him a witness claim that has been due Carroll since the January term of court, 1894. The certificate for the money has been in the clerk's office all these years, Mr. Carroll having neglected to call for it. He said yesterday he would not send it to Frankfort to get the one dollar due him but would keep it as a reminder of an efficient officer.

In Police Court.

Owing to the absence of Police Judge Cross, who was called to Livingston county yesterday to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, the court was presided over this morning by former Judge E. H. Puryear. The grist was a short one and most of the cases called were continued. D. Ruehle, charged with plain drunk, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs.

The case of Porter Brown, charged with using insulting language, was continued until Thursday morning.

J. J. Woody, charged with breach of the peace, was held until Tuesday morning, when he will be given a hearing. At the same time A. J. Mobley, charged with malicious cutting, will have his trial.

More Acker, colored, an itinerant, charged with breach of the peace, was given a sentence of $25 and costs. He could not pay.

Circuit Court.

The civil term of McCracken circuit court will open next Monday morning with a long list of cases for trial. During the criminal term, which closed last Friday afternoon, more sentences were imposed than during any previous term of the court. The entire number was 28 and of these two were life sentences. Next Friday or some day early next week all the prisoners, who were given a trial and who still have a chance of appeal, will be brought into court for sentence. Those who pleaded guilty were sentenced immediately, but those tried have a period of ten days in which to file the notices of appeal, and during the interim are held at the county jail.

Marriage Licenses.

Edgar E. Erdhardt and Eva Harrell, both of Paducah.

WILPIIT TELEPHONE IS PROVING FINE SUCCESS.

Ever since a telephone has been placed upon the pulpit desk of the First Baptist church, a large number of church people who are confined to their beds or their homes, have been taking advantage of the opportunity offered to the music and sermons over the telephone. Sunday morning when Dr. Thompson preached to the Knights Templar about 20 phones were connected with the church and last evening when he preached again, nearly 35 connections were made. The idea of giving sick and aged members of the church an opportunity to hear the sermons was first suggested by the Rev. M. E. Todd, the new pastor, and in order to make the thing possible an ordinary telephone was placed upon the pulpit. When the preacher stands immediately behind the telephone all of the people at the other end of the connected lines have no difficulty in hearing every word that he says. When he gets off at one side or the other the sound is less distinct. Just now plans are being made to equip the phone with a wide mouthpiece or horn like those used on a phonograph and it is believed that in this way everyone who is listening over the wire can hear more distinctly.

DHUNKEN STRANGER IS PULLED OUT OF WINDOW.

The family of Leo E. Pettit, near the corner of Sixth and Adams streets, was aroused about 10:30 o'clock Saturday evening by the efforts of a drunken man to climb into the kitchen window. The women of the household were alone at the time, and called a neighbor, who pulled the man out the window and allowed him to go. The same man, a few minutes before he had tried to get into the house of a neighbor. It is believed he was looking for his own residence and was mistaken in the locality. Lamp Explodes.

Mayfield, Ky., April 20.—The home of Mrs. Noah Laird, living about three and a half miles east of town, burned to the ground at about 7 o'clock at night. Mr. Joe Hunter and family also occupied the house, which was a three-room frame structure. The fire started from the explosion of a coal oil lamp that had been left burning on the dining room table after supper. Everything but a trunk and other small articles were destroyed. There was some insurance and probably enough to cover the loss.

Frankfort, Ky., April 20.—Governor Wallace addressed a letter to Adjutant General Johnston, calling attention to a law passed several years ago under which the night before may be appropriated and punished and property may be guarded against injury or destruction, the owners to be paid out of the county treasury. ANNUAL COUNCIL

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL DIOCESE OF KENTUCKY.

Will Be Held at Louisville May 19 and 20—Much Interest Attaches to Meeting.

Much interest attaches this year to the eighteenth annual council of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Kentucky, which meets in St. Paul's Chapel, Fourth and Victoria Place, Louisville, May 19-20. The meeting will be presided over by the Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, bishop of Kentucky, who was chosen as bishop of the diocese in the church in which the services this year will be held.

Aside from the annual election of officers, in which much interest is centered, there is little of great importance to come before the council. Large delegations from towns throughout the state will attend, and the meeting will be one of the largest held in recent years. The first two days will be given over to the executive deliberations of the body and to addresses which will be made by different pastors of the diocese. On Thursday, May 21, the Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions will hold an all-day session, when luncheon will be served.

MRS. HUME OGILVIE DIES AT HOSPITAL

Wife of Chief Deputy Sheriff Buried This Afternoon.

Was Daughter of William Moore, of North Eighth Street and Well Known in City.

LEAVES ONE LITTLE CHILD.

The many friends of Mrs. Clara Moore Ogilvie, who have been watching the course of her illness with deep sympathy for the last several weeks will be pained to learn of her death which took place at Riverside hospital at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, as the immediate result of a surgical operation performed last Wednesday.

Mrs. Ogilvie had been ill for more than a year and the operation was finally performed as the only possible means of saving her life. In this hope, however, both friends and physicians were disappointed and she finally succumbed to the ravages of the disease, with which she had been so long stricken.

Mrs. Ogilvie was the wife of Hume Ogilvie, chief deputy to Sheriff J. W. Ogilvie, of McCracken county. Besides her husband her own family consists of only one son, Hume Ogilvie, Jr., 2 years old. Other surviving relatives are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, of North Eighth street four brothers, Norton, Emmett, Henry and Aubrey, and one sister, Miss Lucy Moore. She leaves an aunt, Mrs. M. E. Adams, of Harrison street, and two uncles, Mr. C. W. Morrison, of Paducah, and Bishop H. C. Morrison, of Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Ogilvie was born in McCracken county 28 years ago and since her early childhood had been a resident of Paducah. For several years she was a teacher in the public schools, and the number of her friends among her former pupils and in the church and social circles in which she moved is limited only by the extent of her acquaintanceship.

She was a woman of unusual intellectual attainments and her happy disposition and other graces won her hosts of friends. She was an active member of Trimble Street M. E. church, where the funeral was conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon by the Rev. G. W. Banks, assisted by the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, of the Broadway Methodist church.

Baptist Recorder Will Not be Merged With Baptist World, Says Dr. Thompson

The report that the Baptist World Publishing company, a new corporation at Louisville, will absorb all the Baptist publications in the state is strenuously denied by Dr. Calvin M. Thompson, editor of the Baptist Recorder, the most important church paper in the state. The Courier-Journal, which is the paper that first gave publicity to the proposed consolidation, publishes the following interview with Dr. Thompson:

"The publication yesterday morning that the Baptist World Publishing company would shortly begin the publication of a new religious weekly and that it would in time consolidate a number of other religious papers, including the Western Recorder, brought forth a denial last night from the Rev. C. M. Thompson, president of the Baptist Book Concern and editor of the Western Recorder, regarding the use of the name of that paper concerning any future consolidation.

"Mr. Thompson said the Western Recorder was the oldest denominational paper published in Kentucky, and that no thought had been entertained by himself and associates in reference to consolidating with any other publication, and that the statement, no matter by whom it may have been made, was wholly unwarranted and misleading. In discussing the future of the Western Recorder, the Rev. Mr. Thompson said:

"There appeared in your columns this morning an article containing a statement that was unfair and absolutely misleading concerning the Western Recorder. It was in connection with the communication giving the facts and plans of the Baptist World Publishing company, which was incorporated last Thursday.

"The objectionable feature is as follows: 'The Baptist World Publishing company expects to begin publishing the Baptist World, new Baptist religious weekly, which anticipates consolidating with, or absorbing the Baptist Argus, within a short time, and in the near future the Western Recorder.' This statement concerning the Recorder is absolutely without foundation in fact and could not be more misleading than it is. Dr. Harvey and his associates are at liberty to absorb whatever publication they may desire, but should be careful about mentioning the names of papers that they never can consolidate or command. The Recorder has a constituency that is the result of years, and it will continue to do business at the same old stand, in spite of this misleading statement. I trust it will be un-
